A transaction might be subject to additional charges (e.g., stamp duty, stock market tax, etc) which are not included in the transaction fee and which do not benefit from any discount.

Our investment experts create customised portfolios across all traditional and alternative asset classes, while taking into account your investment and asset-allocation objectives, as well as your ability to take risks. Your discretionary portfolio may incorporate a mix of HSBC or third-party solutions across the spectrum of asset classes - domestic, international and emerging market fixed income and equities, as well as alternative investments - based on your individual needs.

Foreign Exchange & Precious Metals

With respect to FX spot and forwards, the Bank may earn a profit in the form of a spread applied to the rates obtained from its market side counterparty. This spread is applied irrespective of whether the FX spot or forward transactions are directly instructed by the client or are induced by another service or transaction that requires a currency conversion. These operations may result from, e.g., a purchase of foreign securities, payments and withdrawals in foreign currency, or investments as part of a discretionary mandate, etc.

A number of the products and services listed in this brochure are subject to legal restrictions. It is therefore possible that they are not available as described in all of the countries in which the Bank operates.

One-off charges are only charged upon occurrence of an event. These charges include for example transaction fees (incl. a commission or margin charged by the Bank, third party brokerage, stock exchange fees or governmental taxes (subject to change), for example, Swiss stamp duty or foreign financial transaction taxes, etc).

Product related charges of product manufacturer are not included in this brochure and will be available at point of sale if you are advised by the Bank.

Your investment activities can also generate new tax liabilities on which the Bank does not provide any information or advice.

If you are receiving financial services from third party financial services firms, it will be the duty of those firms to inform you on the tariff they are applying for the provision of such services.

You may ask your Relationship Manager for a report on all costs and charges you have incurred for a specific period in connection with the financial services provided to you by the Bank free of charge.

Should you require further assistance to help you assessing the costs related to the provision of a financial service, please reach out to your financial advisor.
